

MAN From New York

here last week said he has just 25 pairs of Nottingham Lace Curtains that he'd like to sell at a price. He quoted it—and well, the curtains are here. The cheapest is worth $1.75, the best $7.50 a pair.

Monday the man from New York's goods go at $2.50 per pair.

Cheviot and Plain Cloth Suits, nicely made, gift button, open or closed jacket. About 32 suits in the lot—a regular $9 value, $6.75.

New Separate Skirts, $3 up.

Capes, $3 up.

Shirt Waists, 50c up.

One very special value in Shirt Waists is one at 60c. This is our $1 article.

L. S. Ayres & Co.

One handsome silk-covered Elderdawn Comfort, a $25 one. You can have it for $8.49.

A PROPOSITION FOR MEN ONLY.

You wear clothes;
We make them.

You find satisfaction in good ones only;

We make that kind only.

You will probably want a new
Spring Suit or Overcoat;

We can show you WHY
and HOW we can make it better for you than others.

Investigate—See how much style and worth can be had for your money.

YOUNG & McMURRAY TAILORS,

12 & 14 N. Meridian St.

ART EMPORIUM,
Telephone 500.

Beautiful By-Places.
There are a thousand beautiful bits of nature within a few miles of Indianapolis that the bicyclist can make his own in counter-terrestrial presentment. We have all the instruments, all the materials for amateur photography.

THE H. LIEBER COMPANY,
33 South Meridian Street.

"What is Easter without Tucker's Gloves?"

GLOVE EASTER PRICES

Ladies' 50c
75c
$1.00
$1.25
$1.50
$1.75
$2.00
Gloves

Men's Easter Gloves $1.00

New lot Men's Alexandre and Dent's Famous Gloves.

Tucker's

10 East Washington Street.

PLASTERERS' DIFFICULTIES.

Union Men Win and Will Return to Work on the Majestic.

The union plasterers, who had trouble with the contractor on the new building being erected by the Indianapolis Gas Company at the corner of Maryland and Pennsylvania streets, will return to work to-morrow morning, the differences between themselves and their employers having been adjusted. The concessions demanded by the union have been granted, and the scale of wages will be restored April 1, as was agreed a year ago.

Mr. John R. Pearson, president of the Gas Company, says that not a dollar's worth of work has been done on the building by other than union men, and that all the contracts, with the exception of those for the elevators and marble and mosaic work, have been let to local contractors. Before the foundation was laid, he says, it was determined to have all work done by Indianapolis contractors and workmen, so far as possible. This plan will be followed until the work is completed. Proposals from hundreds of contractors from other cities were rejected, preference being given to local enterprise. Indianapolis firms could not furnish the elevators and the marble and the mosaic. Mr. Pearson says, and the work was let to outside firms.

CASES THAT NEED INVESTIGATING

Medical Colleges Dumping Human Remains Around Town.

Health officer Sanborn has discovered evidence which he thinks will identify the medical colleges from which the remains of cadavers were taken and dumped on two of the public dumping grounds near the city. In the search he discovered that a mass of human parts had been dumped near Meridian street and Fall creek. He says he found marks and names written on papers with the matter sufficient to prove that one lot came from the College of Physicians and Surgeons and the other from the Physio-Medical College.

Bedroom Sets in all woods—Wm. L. Elder.

APRIL 25 THE DATE

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION WILL BE HELD THEN.

County Committee Fixes Basis of Representation—Order of Business Suggested.

The Republican county committee met yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Republican Commercial Travelers' Club on North Pennsylvania street and fixed April 25 as the day on which to hold the county convention. There was practically no opposition to this. The meeting of the committee was well attended, a quorum with a large majority being obtained. Chairman Young announced the object of the meeting and a motion was immediately made setting the date for April 25. There was a host of candidates attending the meeting of the committee, but all seemed to agree it would be better to hold an early convention than to have a late one with the danger of too sharp rivalry.

The committee agreed unanimously to the basis of representation suggested, which was the same as that of two years ago. This will give each precinct two delegates, with an additional one for every fifty votes, or fraction over twenty-five, cast for Owens for Secretary of State.

Some one asked the chairman when the nominations for the Legislature would be made. He stated that it would be unwise to fix a date for this convention at the present time, as the officers of Marion county had been enjoined from holding an election under the law of 1885, which is practically the only law under which Marion county can secure representation, unless the Supreme Court overthrows the law, thus making it necessary for the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature to enact a new law.

A convention would be unable to determine the exact number of legislators which the county will be entitled to till the apportionment question is settled.

Motion was made that the county convention nominate officers in the following order: Judge of the Circuit Court, prosecutor, jury, county commissioners, treasurer, sheriff, coroner, assessor, surveyor. There was considerable opposition to this. It was explained that by following this order of business the convention would be sure to select good men for the important offices of the county. Hereafter these nominations have been the last on the programme and, as a result, were made by the committee. A number of speakers were made for and against the motion. It was held that the committee has no right to fix the order of business for a convention that it was the privilege of the convention to make. The committee was instructed to recommend that the proper convention committee adopt the order of business outlined above. The committee then adjourned.

MR. BYNUM IS OUT.

His Friends Say He Does Not Want the Congressional Nomination.

It is the talk among Democratic politicians that W. D. Bynum, ex-Congressman from the old Seventh district, will not be a candidate before the coming Democratic congressional convention. Mr. Bynum is quoted as saying that he wishes to devote his time to his law practice. It was said on good authority last evening that Mr. Bynum is not after anything, it being his desire to remain out of politics as far as possible.

There is only one person mentioned as a possible Democratic congressional candidate and that is Captain J. B. Curtis, the present city attorney. Mr. Curtis has not announced that he is a candidate, but he is looked to by the Democrats of the district as the leader. It is said that Mr. Curtis has never been defeated, that he is a young man of popular and able and is therefore the strongest candidate that can be nominated. The younger generation of Democrats, when he gathered together to make a crowd, speak of Captain Curtis as the man "they" will send to Congress.

The same general antipathy exists in Democratic circles concerning the congressional nomination as that of the others. No time has yet been set for a meeting of the committee to set the time of the convention. Captain Curtis stands in a position to get the congressional nomination if he wants it. He has the city machine, the county organization and the State committee behind him.

SILVER MEN ACTIVE.

Intend to Put a White Metal Plank in the Democratic Platform.

The split in the Democratic party of the State is growing more serious all the time. The silver wing is organizing in each township and in the cities. Allen W. Clark, president of the Silver League, is actively at work spreading the silver doctrine. The local friends of silver are using the circular of the Federation of Labor to advantage. The circular is a declaration for free coinage, although it is worded in language that is not so plain. Mr. Clark, declining to be a candidate for Governor on the silver platform which the silver wing proposes to put in, Mr. Shanklin wants it understood that he is for silver, but fears his becoming a candidate might embarrass the convention. Mr. Shanklin writes that he will be present at the convention to do all he can to secure a declaration for silver. He further says: "We can control the convention if we will stand together, and in doing so we will give the national convention a warning that it will be foolhardy for it to ignore."

Political Notes.

The Equity Club will meet at 338 Indiana avenue Tuesday night.

Prosecuting Attorney Wittke announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for re-nomination.

The Republicans of the Eighth precinct of the Fourth ward have been requested to meet Wednesday night at 427 West Second street.

Friends of Dr. S. P. Sherrer, of the Twelfth ward, are urging him to enter the race for coroner as a South-side candidate. He has not announced that he will do so.

William F. Landers, who was defeated by nineteen votes when he was a candidate for nomination on the Republican legislative ticket two years ago, will be a delegate before the county convention for the same office. Gabriel Jones will also be a candidate for the legislative nomination.

HARDING ARRESTED.

His Story of the Shooting of Luthar Dawson Last Friday.

Mike Harding, the young colored man who shot Luthar Dawson at the Allen Surgical Institute, Friday morning, was arrested yesterday. He was found under a bed at the home of a colored minister, 72 Harlan street, after the family had denied to patrolmen that he was there. Harding claimed that he was in the house. Harding claimed that he had been constantly annoyed by Dawson, and that the latter menaced him with a knife before he did the shooting. His story is corroborated by the head waiter at the institute, who says that he had warned Dawson of impending trouble, and that L. W. went to talk to Harding, carrying a butcher knife concealed behind his back.

Harding talks about the trouble very freely. He has been employed at the surgical institute for six months, while Luthar Dawson came there but a short time ago. Harding came here from Memphis. He went home Christmas. Since his return, he says, the other employees have "guyed" him very often, and have done everything they could to make things unpleasant for him. Friday morning, he says, Luthar Dawson and another waiter stood by and "guyed" him while he was eating breakfast. He had been sick for a week, and was unusually irritable. They laughed at his threat to whip them both, and invited him to proceed. Harding went for his revolver. When he returned to the dining room, he was met by Luthar Dawson, backed by his brother William and another colored man. Luthar Dawson threatened to draw something from his pocket, when he drew his revolver and fired at his brother. Dawson turned aside as the shot was fired and received the bullet in his shoulder. Harding then fired another shot. He rushed through the hall, threatening to shoot the first man who tried to stop him. He was intent on leaving town, but the police were too quick for him.

His story of the shooting of Luthar Dawson last Friday.

He was about to fire James Robinson.

Inson, the bell boy who was arrested the night of the shooting, and who is charged with having drawn his knife and threatened William Dawson, a brother of the man who was shot, but decided to hear his case when Harding is tried for shooting with intent to kill. Robinson's mother signed his bond and he was released.

PAID A QUARTER OF A MILLION.

Pennsylvania Company Now Owns the Site for Its New Depot.

Yesterday the finishing touches were put to the transactions by which the Pennsylvania Company came into full possession of the square of ground north of the Union tracks, between Pennsylvania and Delaware streets, paying in cash for the three pieces of property, $250,000. Of this sum, $150,000 goes to the heirs of Thomas Davis, $50,000 to Joseph Evans and the estate of Wm. E. Evans, and $50,000 to Hitz & Co. This purchase gives the Pennsylvania Company a frontage on Pennsylvania street of 32 feet, on Georgia street a frontage of 420 feet, and on Delaware street a frontage of 280 feet. The Pennsylvania Company previously having owned fifteen feet of ground adjoining the Evans property on the south. The lease of the Sinker-Davis Company has nine months to run. The other ground will be vacated at once.

An official of the Pennsylvania Company states that during the summer plans for a large new freight station will be begun in the early spring of 1897 work will be begun on the new building. It is proposed to have it the model freight depot of the country.

DISPENSING CHARITY

SECRETARY BICKNELL, OF THE STATE BOARD, ON TRUSTEES.

Many Abuses of Power by Township Officers to the Detriment of the General Public.

Secretary Bicknell, of the State Board of Charities, is at work on the annual report of the department, which will be made to the Governor in a short time. The board has never made any recommendations concerning the expenditures for charity by township trustees, but those who are acquainted with the opinions of the members would not be surprised if some pertinent mention is made this year. Heretofore the board has referred to the figures showing the expenditures, allowing the public to draw conclusions therefrom.

The Board of Charities would reform the law governing township trustees. The present method of dispensing charity would be abolished altogether or so altered as to curtail the powers of the trustees. It is claimed now that the power of a trustee is supreme. He has the handling of public money, being independent of any other officer, with no restrictions to say how much or how little he shall expend. The workers in organized charity maintain that charity work should be in the hands of experienced persons and altogether divorced from any political influence.

In this State the trustees expended during last year the very magnificent sum of $633,000 for charity. This amount represents what was given away with no substantial return. It represents the amount spent for feeding and clothing the needy. The workers on the State board hold that half the amount would have accomplished the same ends had the work been systematized. The State of Ohio has approximately 60 per cent. more population than Indiana. The latter, however, spends over $100,000 each year more than Ohio in the relief work through the township trustees. In Ohio the alleged extravagance of the township method is being agitated, and an effort is being made to abolish the system.

Secretary Bicknell holds that Indiana has been no worse off during the past few years than Ohio. He says that the system of dictation of affairs here is some better than it has been there. Mr. Bicknell has long held the view that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the present system does not indicate the extent or prevalence of poverty. As an illustration of his contention he gives the figures of several townships in the State. These figures do not show that the townships in which the cities distribute the most for the relief of poverty. In the eastern part of the State there is a township which probably combines as much wealth as any in the State, except a few with large cities. The locality has a reputation for prosperity, yet money is distributed there each year than in any of the 1,036 townships in the State.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

WINDOW-GLASS MEN.

Meet Here and Discuss Trade Conditions and Prices.

Representatives of the Pittsburg Window Glass Association and the Western Glass Association were in conference yesterday at the Grand Hotel. There were present H. Sellers McKee, president of the Pittsburg association; William Leffler, W. A. Wallington, M. W. Watson, of Pittsburg; F. L. Bodine, of Philadelphia, and E. J. Phillips, of New Castle, Pa., and a number of the proprietors of window glass factories in the Indiana glass belt. The meeting lasted but a few hours of the afternoon, after which the representatives returned to their homes. They came here for the purpose of discussing the prices of window glass, and the presumption is that they are held together by trade unionism. They are held together by trade unionism. They are held together by trade unionism. They are held together by trade unionism.

NO STREET-CAR NEWS.

Mr. McKee Denies that a Letter Was Recently Sent to the Stockholders.

H. Sellers McKee, of the Citizens' Street-railroad Company, was in town yesterday for a few hours, but he declared that his visit had nothing to do with street-car matters. Mr. McKee was in attendance at the meeting of glass men, and he left for Chicago last evening. Mayor Taggart says he had no conference with him. J. C. Street-car men denied that he had any money to get the city company out of the way. Mr. McKee was reticent, as usual, concerning the plans of the company, and he departed without leaving behind the shadow of a hope for settlement.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY ACTION.

Henry Crews, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of criminal assault, preferred against him by George Bernham, a hackman, had a hearing in Police Court yesterday. Crews, at the time of his arrest, had been boarding at Bernham's house. The affidavit for his arrest, Crews was accused of having made a criminal assault on Bernham's ten-year-old daughter, a girl named Bernham, who is a child of a physician, who informed her that the little one was suffering from a loathsome disease, and he threatened to leave her in the street.

He denied the charge emphatically. The little girl is equally positive in her statements that he is guilty.

PREPARING FOR TAX ASSESSMENT.

County Assessors met yesterday and discussed with them plans for taking the spring assessment, which begins April 1. This year only personal property and additional improvements

We Have Won the Hearts of the People.

THE GLOBE

Is already recognized as the

Foremost Clothiers,
Hatters and Furnishers

See Our Surprise Special Offer

For This Week Only
BEGINNING MONDAY
ENDING SATURDAY

Knee Pants 10 CENTS

For the Boys, all sizes; stylish, well made and substantial; various handsome patterns

Our Line of Confirmation Suits

Is especially complete and attractive—embracing the most desirable Cheviots, Tibbets, Clay Worsteds, Dark Cassimeres, domestic and imported weaves, both medium and highest grade, and all at the lowest prices, value considered, that ever were known.

No Finer Grades

Of Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods than ours is shown in Indianapolis or anywhere else.

Don't Stay Away Just Because the Prices are 'Way Down.

Remember, always, we return money promptly should your purchase not be entirely satisfactory to you.

Watch for Our Surprise Special Announcement in the Journal This Day Each Week.

Eagle Bicycles

FURNISHED WITH

Large Cold Swagged Tubing
Involute Sprockets
Large Hubs and Balls
Forty-Spoke Wheels
Aluminum Rims
G. & J. Tires

ARE THE Highest Grade

Handsome
Lightest Running
Strongest
Most Up-to-Date
Most Reliable

Be Sure to See Them Before Buying

Prices $80 and $100

Imperials $85.00
In Black, Dark Green and Maroon.

Cornell $65.00
In Black and Maroon.

Essex $50.00
In Black and Maroon.

Cash or Easy Payments. Send for Catalogue.

B. KOEHRING & SON

'Phone 852. 530 and 532 VIRGINIA AVENUE.

are to be assessed. Under the decision of the Supreme Court pickup and pro rata building charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see a law passed which would give all expenditures could be regulated by law and the relief work carried on in an altogether different manner.

The system of dispensing charity through township trustees is an old one, having been inaugurated before the time of organized charity. Those who are now studying the social conditions pronounce the system bad both to the taxpayers and the persons who are helped. The township trustees are an illustration, cited a case of a widow who receives a small pension from the trustees. She was suffering from every body and on the petition of citizens she was allowed the pension, and it was continued for some time. The township trustees, however, naturally felt a hesitancy in stopping the aid. Mr. Bicknell says such cases are plentiful, and that the township trustees are the worst of the worst. He says that the people whom it is intended to benefit to help themselves. The State board would like to see